

Bible Study

This group will be lead by Jeff Taylor

When it is appropriate I will be inviting members to join a Bible study group. This will be interdenominational, and will enable people to share their experiences and thoughts in a friendly atmosphere. To begin with each person will be given a copy of John's gospel in order to go through it, each of us reading from the same version. My personal background is evangelical and we are members of Clapham Evangelical Church. I am an associate evangelist with Outreach UK. The object of the group is to be blessed and encouraged by drawing closer to the Lord. The group will be open to everyone, those with a strong faith and those with just a curiosity.

Details to follow when Lockdown restrictions ease.
